

Junior medics bullied to lie about hours: doctors ordered to work without proper training.

June 1, 2005

Revill J.

<https://psnet.ahrq.gov/issue/junior-medics-bullied-lie-about-hours-doctors-ordered-work-without-proper-training>

This article describes how reduced work hours for physicians in the United Kingdom may be leaving hospitals understaffed at night. Some junior doctors report being asked to perform duties for which they have not been trained.