

Improving end of life care: an information systems approach to reducing medical errors.

June 22, 2009

Tamang S, Kopec D, Shagas G, et al. Improving end of life care: an information systems approach to reducing medical errors. Stud Health Technol Inform. 2005;114:93-104.

<https://psnet.ahrq.gov/issue/improving-end-life-care-information-systems-approach-reducing-medical-errors>

---

The authors discuss and analyze preliminary results from two palliative care information systems. Results indicate that such models can be employed to improve end-of-life care and information sharing between palliative care clinicians.