

We may remember but what did we learn? Dealing with errors, crimes and misdemeanours around adverse events in healthcare.

November 25, 2009

Fischbacher-Smith D, Fischbacher-Smith M. WE MAY REMEMBER BUT WHAT DID WE LEARN? DEALING WITH ERRORS, CRIMES AND MISDEMEANOURS AROUND ADVERSE EVENTS IN HEALTHCARE. Financial Accountability & Management. 2009;25(4). doi:10.1111/j.1468-0408.2009.00487.x.

<https://psnet.ahrq.gov/issue/we-may-remember-what-did-we-learn-dealing-errors-crimes-and-misdemeanours-around-adverse>

This commentary places National Health Service policies and initiatives regarding patient safety into historical context and discusses their effect on both organizational and individual ability to learn from adverse events.