

Implementation of the Josie King Care Journal in a pediatric intensive care unit: a quality improvement project.

June 3, 2013

Turner K, Frush K, Hueckel RM, et al. Implementation of the Josie King Care Journal in a pediatric intensive care unit: a quality improvement project. J Nurs Care Qual. 2013;28(3):257-64.

doi:10.1097/NCQ.0b013e318276da87.

<https://psnet.ahrq.gov/issue/implementation-josie-king-care-journal-pediatric-intensive-care-unit-quality-improvement>

The Josie King Care Journal is a tool intended to improve communication between the health care team and families of hospitalized children. This study reports on the implementation of the journal in a pediatric intensive care unit. Use of the tool was associated with perceived improvements in communication by both clinicians and parents.