

Improving code team performance and survival outcomes: implementation of pediatric resuscitation team training.

April 16, 2014

Knight LJ, Gabhart JM, Earnest KS, et al. Improving code team performance and survival outcomes: implementation of pediatric resuscitation team training. Crit Care Med. 2014;42(2):243-251.

doi:10.1097/CCM.0b013e3182a6439d.

<https://psnet.ahrq.gov/issue/improving-code-team-performance-and-survival-outcomes-implementation-pediatric-resuscitation>

Using simulated code blues, this observation study found that a structured team training led to improvements in resuscitation performance and enhanced survival to discharge. This study adds to the evidence supporting the use of simulation training.