

Patient involvement in patient safety: a qualitative study of nursing staff and patient perceptions.

June 15, 2017

Bishop A, Macdonald M. Patient Involvement in Patient Safety: A Qualitative Study of Nursing Staff and Patient Perceptions. J Patient Saf. 2017;13(2):82-87. doi:10.1097/PTS.000000000000123.

<https://psnet.ahrq.gov/issue/patient-involvement-patient-safety-qualitative-study-nursing-staff-and-patient-perceptions>

This qualitative study found that nurses and patients perceive patient safety as a shared responsibility. Both nurses and patients identified provider stress and workload as barriers to engaging patients in safety, consistent with prior studies.