

Professional, structural and organisational interventions in primary care for reducing medication errors.

December 19, 2017

Khalil H, Bell BG, Chambers H, et al. Professional, structural and organisational interventions in primary care for reducing medication errors. Cochrane Database Syst Rev. 2017;10:CD003942.

doi:10.1002/14651858.CD003942.pub3.

<https://psnet.ahrq.gov/issue/professional-structural-and-organisational-interventions-primary-care-reducing-medication>

This systematic review examined physician-level and organizational-level interventions to improve outpatient medication safety. Existing interventions such as clinical decision support to identify high-risk patients, pharmacist medication review, and educational interventions for prescribers did not prevent medication-related emergency department visits, hospitalizations, or deaths. These results highlight the challenge of reducing serious adverse drug events in outpatient care.