

Creating a Safe Space: Psychological Health and Safety of Healthcare Workers.

June 26, 2019

Canadian Patient Safety Institute: 2019.

<https://psnet.ahrq.gov/issue/creating-safe-space-psychological-health-and-safety-healthcare-workers>

---

Structured approaches to managing negative psychological consequences of medical errors on health care professionals, patients, and families are important for emotional healing and organizational learning. This toolkit can support healthcare leaders and decisionmakers to develop, implement or improve healthcare worker support models. The related webinar series featured discussions on this toolkit and peer support efforts for Canadian health care workers.