

FDA alerts patients and health care professionals of EpiPen auto-injector errors related to device malfunctions and user administration.

April 8, 2020

FDA alerts patients and health care professionals of EpiPen auto-injector errors related to device malfunctions and user administration. MedWatch Safety Alert. Silver Spring, MD: US Food and Drug Administration. March 24, 2020.

<https://psnet.ahrq.gov/issue/fda-alerts-patients-and-health-care-professionals-epipen-auto-injector-errors-related-device>

Device related errors reduce the safety of medications. This announcement highlights concerns associated with the use of epinephrine auto-injectors. Recommendations to address the problem include patient review of instructions and practice with the device to ensure its effective use in emergent situations.