

Real-time debriefing after critical events: exploring the gap between principle and reality.

November 18, 2020

Arriaga AF, Szyld D, Pian-Smith MCM. Real-time debriefing after critical events: exploring the gap between principle and reality. Anesthesiol Clin. 2020;38(4):801-820. doi:10.1016/j.anclin.2020.08.003.

<https://psnet.ahrq.gov/issue/real-time-debriefing-after-critical-events-exploring-gap-between-principle-and-reality>

Debriefing is an established strategy teams use to learn from critical events, reduce event occurrence, and improve failure response. This review examines how debriefing principles can be embedded for use of the practice in real time, rather than developed in simulated circumstances, to improve anesthesia safety.