

We are not there yet: a qualitative system probing study of a hospital rapid response system.

April 20, 2022

Olsen SL, Søreide E, Hansen BS. We are not there yet: a qualitative system probing study of a hospital rapid response system. J Patient Saf. 2022;18(7):717-721. doi:10.1097/pts.0000000000001000.

<https://psnet.ahrq.gov/issue/we-are-not-there-yet-qualitative-system-probing-study-hospital-rapid-response-system>

Rapid response systems (RRS) are widely used to identify signs of rapid deterioration among hospitalized patients. Using in situ simulation, researchers identified obstacles to effective RRS execution, including inconsistent education and documentation, lack of interpersonal trust, and low psychological safety.