

Individualized medication review in older people with multimorbidity: a comparative analysis between patients living at home and in a nursing home.

May 25, 2022

Molist-Brunet N, Sevilla-Sánchez D, Puigoriol-Juventeny E, et al. Individualized medication review in older people with multimorbidity: a comparative analysis between patients living at home and in a nursing home. Int J Environ Res Public Health. 2022;19(6):3423. doi:10.3390/ijerph19063423.

<https://psnet.ahrq.gov/issue/individualized-medication-review-older-people-multimorbidity-comparative-analysis-between>

Inappropriate prescribing and polypharmacy can place older adults at increased risk for medication-related adverse events. This study found that up to 90% of older adults had at least one inappropriate prescription regardless of residential setting, but medication review resulted in a greater decrease in risk factors for medication-related adverse events (e.g., polypharmacy, therapeutic complexity) among nursing home patients compared to patients living at home.