

Scoping review of studies evaluating frailty and its association with medication harm.

June 22, 2022

Lam JYJ, Barras M, Scott IA, et al. Scoping review of studies evaluating frailty and its association with medication harm. Drugs Aging. 2022;39(5):333-353. doi:10.1007/s40266-022-00940-3.

<https://psnet.ahrq.gov/issue/scoping-review-studies-evaluating-frailty-and-its-association-medication-harm>

Patient characteristics such as age, comorbidities and frailty can increase risk for medication errors. This scoping review shows that studies evaluating medication harm in frail patients are largely limited the methodological quality and inadequate reporting. The authors discuss the need for more robust studies examining this relationship, including the effect of polypharmacy.