

Contributors to diagnostic error or delay in the acute care setting: a survey of clinical stakeholders.

October 12, 2022

Redmond S, Barwise A, Zornes S, et al. Contributors to diagnostic error or delay in the acute care setting: a survey of clinical stakeholders. Health Serv Insights. 2022;15:117863292211235.

doi:10.1177/11786329221123540.

<https://psnet.ahrq.gov/issue/contributors-diagnostic-error-or-delay-acute-care-setting-survey-clinical-stakeholders>

Various factors – including organizational, interpersonal clinician, and patient factors – can contribute to diagnostic errors and delays. This survey of 220 clinicians explored the perceived frequency of different factors contributing to diagnostic errors or diagnostic delay. Findings suggest that system and processes, care team interactions, provider factors, cognitive factors, and patient factors were perceived to contribute to diagnostic error and delay with similar frequency.